

Celebrate Libraries!

Mamie Doud Eisenhower Public Library, 3 Community Park Rd., Broomfield, CO 80020

The 411

Teen Zone Newsletter

www.broomfieldlibrary.org

March 2008-May 2008
Volume 5, Issue 6

Library Word Search		D C R M T F F Q M P A P O O B E L O O U A O S G R M E A A L H E G I D R E P T T N D T S A U F A S U Y B O O K T Z Y G P E T A H E L S I I T C H A E N R E E P O N R A I R R H V T E E N E E T C C Q O S W H B X R W A N H N S E R I E S E Q L O H O J K L Z C V B N O V W D A T A B A S E R G E V C X I P O D L K J H L B N M Y U F I C T I O N
Find these words:
<ul style="list-style-type: none"> • Book • Read • Magazine • Computer • Series • Teen • Novel • Question • Ipod • Graphic novel 	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> • Catalog • Research • Database • Fiction

Teen Programs

On-Going Programs

See the calendar inserts for more information on these programs.

Knitting Rocks	Anime Showings	Write Out	Go
1st Saturdays, 10-noon (3/1, 4/5, 5/3)	1st Tuesdays, 6-8 p.m. (3/4, 4/1, 5/6)	3rd Sundays, 2:30-4:30 (3/9, 4/20, 5/18)	2nd Sundays, 2-4 p.m. (3/9, 4/13, 5/11)

Room For Me

Learn how to spruce up your space. Make crafts to decorate your room and find out how to arrange your stuff to make your room a positive place to be.

Saturday, March 22, 2-4 p.m.

Game On

Show off your skills at this gaming event at the library. Play PS2 games against your fellow gamers. We'll provide all the equipment and the food.

Tuesday, March 25, 2-4 p.m.

Prom 101 Do you see a tux and a limo in your future? Teens, bring your parents and friends for this interactive event. Pick up tips for having a fun and safe evening with short skits by teen drama students. Sponsored by CHIN, Community Health Information Network. Tuesday, April 8, 6:30-8:30 p.m.

Acrylic Painting

Ever wanted to bring out the Picasso in you? Check out this free program where instructor Dianna Wilson from the Broomfield Art Guild will show you tips and techniques to painting with acrylics.

Saturday, April 12, 2-4 p.m.

Website Creation

Learn how to be a whiz at the web. Come to this after-hours program and learn how to use Dreamweaver to design your very own website.

Friday, April 18, 6-9 p.m.

Dance Dance Revolution

Straight from the arcade, this dancing game puts your skills to the test. D.D.R. shows you where to put your feet while you groove to the music. Check it out at this after-hours program.

Friday, May 2, 7-8:30 p.m.

Family Yu-Gi-Oh

Back by popular demand! Break out your cards— it's Yu-Gi-Oh for the whole family! Please bring your own deck of Yu-Gi-Oh cards. For ages 9-adult. Registration is required.

Saturday, May 3, 2-4 p.m.

Science Programs

All science programs are sponsored by the Science Task Force and are open to ages 9-14. Registration is required.

Chemistry Concoctions

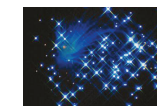

Chemists from Sandoz are back by popular demand! Join us for more hands-on chemistry and experiments so big we might just have to do them outside!

Saturday, April 19, 2-4 p.m.

Stellar Science

Are you a star gazer? Want to spend some time with an astronomer and look at the night sky? Come to this hands-on program and bring your parents, too.

Friday, May 9, 7-9 p.m.

Teen Advisory Board

Right: TAB members at the Flapper Flashback dance program

Are you interested in volunteering at the library? You can take care of some of your community service hours by joining the Teen Advisory Board (TAB).

What is TAB? TAB members are teens in grades 6-12 who volunteer two hours a month to help us make the library a teen-friendly place. They share their opinions and ideas about library-sponsored teen events at TAB meetings and help to create this newsletter. TAB meets every 1st and 3rd Monday from 4 to 5 p.m. in the first floor meeting room of the library. If you'd like to join TAB, stop by the Teen Zone Desk to fill out an application. Questions? Give us a call at 720-887-2360.

We asked TAB members two questions:

- | | |
|--|--|
| 1. Combining which two sports would produce the funniest results?
Cait— football & baseball
Savanah— soccer & tennis
Idalys— ice hockey & basketball
James— baseball & hockey
Michelle— football & water polo
Martin— water polo & baseball
Trevor— bowling & tennis
Anna— dance & wrestling
Molly— extreme ironing & Bocci Ball
Alana— basketball & soccer
Montana— lacrosse & Ultimate Frisbee | 2. What's the best way to spend spring break?
Cait— swimming!
Savanah— watching movies & having a Guitar Hero 3 party
Idalys— going to a different country like Japan
James— in New York watching Broadway shows
Michelle— hanging out with friends & playing outside
Marin— partying with friends
Trevor— going to New York with friends & $1,000
Anna— being with friends & having fun
Molly— spending time doing whatever with my friends
Alana— taking a world tour with friends
Montana— skateboarding |
|--|--|

Teen programs are for students in grades 6-12 and registration is required. You may sign up at the Teen Zone desk or call 720-887-2360.

Teen Work

The Robin
By Anonymous

Little robin red breast sitting in her tree nest, she just sits there through the seasons and
yes she has a reason,
for when spring comes she flaps her wings
and flies to get some food, for her and her babies who are in a good mood

By Michelle Green

By Natalie Todd

Calling all teens!
Share your talents! We want your contributions for future editions of The 411. Submit any original stories, poems, book reviews, or drawings to the Teen Zone desk. You might see your work in the next newsletter!

The Conned Lawyer
By: Savannah Baker

“Order, ORDER!” shouted Judge Johnson.
Hello, I’m Warren Roberts. I am currently in the Denver Courthouse in Denver, Colorado, obviously! I am defending my client Rob Wilkerson. He has been charged with conning in different Las Vegas casinos. The plaintiff, Jerry Bruckheimer, said that he was conned out of $5,000. He said that my client had a fake I.D. with the name Joshua Johansson on it. Now, I don’t believe a word of it but of course, I have to do my job and listen to what everyone is saying, though I know it’s all nonsense because he and I were in Wisconsin fishing, boating, hunting, and all that good stuff. I believe that it was his twin brother, Randy. Now I know what you’re thinking, Randy’s dead; he died 2 and ½ months ago. Now, if I wasn’t as smart as I looked, then I’d think that too, but I think that Randy faked his death. I think he is still alive somewhere hiding out. Anyway, time to get back to reality. “Judge Johnson, I’d like to call my client to the stand.” The judge nodded at me and Rob approached the stand.

“Do you swear to tell the whole truth and nothing but the truth so help us God?” asked the judge.
“I do.” replied Rob. As I approached the stand, I thought that it might be possible for Rob to be a con-man. I mean, his brother is one, his father was one, you never really know. But the thing that tugs at me most that makes me feel like he could be one is the fact that after Wisconsin, he did go to Vegas. He told me it was a business trip but something about the way he said it to me in the airport sounded funny.

I don’t know, I guess I’ll just have to prove him innocent and myself wrong. When I got to the stand, I walked straight up to him and asked, “Where were you on June 1st?”

Rob looked me straight in the eye, no sparkle, or as I call it, the lying light, in his eyes as he spoke which told me what he was about to say was true, “I was in the Madison Airport in Wisconsin. I admit that I was boarding a plane to go to Las Vegas, but I was not there when Mr. Bruckheimer was robbed of his $5,000 dollars.”

Now, to show that I wasn’t going easy on my client, I asked one more hard core question, “May we see your plane ticket to see if what you are telling us is true?” Now I know what he is thinking, he is probably thinking, ‘Dude, you saw me off, now are you not believing me?’ He reached into his pocket and pulled out his plane ticket and when I found what I was looking for, the time the plane departed, I saw that it only read 2:45 and when I left him, it was 3:45, coincidence, I think not. “The witness may be excused, I have no more questions.” “Nor I,” said Tommy Thompson, the plaintiff’s lawyer.

The next person I called up was Mr. Bruckheimer. As he walked to the stand, I saw a sign of arrogance in his face. Now, when I saw that look, I knew that we were pretty close to having to ask for an appeal. My heart started racing, I thought we had done very good, but all of the sudden, I started thinking otherwise. Now, being very nervous about having to ask about an appeal, I came on stronger than I expected. “Mr. Bruckheimer, what time was it exactly when you were conned?”

He thought for a moment then replied, “I believe it was about 4:45.” All of the sudden I saw something that didn’t connect, if he left at 2:45, he would have been there, but still at the airport, but when I saw him off at what I thought was 3:45, he would have been in the airport by 5:45, so there was no way. “Last question, may you please describe the man that conned you?” He quickly replied with a glance down at his watch, “Yes, he was tall, about 5’10, he had a slightly large nose, and hazel eyes. He had very chiseled features, his eyes were also a bit beady in the way he looked at people and he had very dark brown hair that almost looked black, but that’s all I can remember, though I can say for sure, he looks exactly as that man” pointing to my client, “though that man carries his real name instead of a fake I’m sure.”

A guilty look crossed over Rob’s face but quickly changed into a serious face and acted as if nothing happened but a shine in his eyes told me he hoped no one had seen the guilty look.

Anyway, this was all this morning and part of the afternoon. And I was right; we did have to ask for an appeal. So at the moment I’m on the plane to Wisconsin, to clarify with the airport if Rob did actually fly out from the Madison Airport. Now, as I prepare for our appeal, I look at the ticket Rob gave me. As I go over it to make sure that everything is ok, I realize something, it doesn’t say that it left the Madison Airport at 2:45, it says he left the Missouri airport at 2:45. All the sudden, everything clicked.

...To be continued.

Read the rest of this story in the next edition of The 411.

New Books

Check out the new books display in the Teen Zone for these and other new titles.

Nonfiction:
Check the Technique: Liner Notes for Hip-Hop Junkies
By Brian Coleman

Sew Subversive: Down & Dirty DIY for the Fabulous Fashionista
By Melissa Rannels, Melissa Alvarado, & Hope Meng

Dear Author: Letters of Hope
Edited by Joan F. Kaywell

Totally Awesome Business Book for Kids
By Arthur & Rose Bochner

M.L.K.: Journey of a King
By Tonya Bolden

Crime Scene Science Fair Projects
By Elizabeth Snoke Harris

The Complete Idiot’s Guide to Customizing Your Ride
By Tom Benford

Anime Mania: How to Draw Characters for Japanese Animation
By Christopher Hart

The 6 Most Important Decisions You’ll Ever Make
By Sean Covey

Screenwriting for Teens
By Christina Hamlett

Fiction:
Eulalia
By Brian Jacques

Notes of a Near-Life Experience
By Olivia Birdsall

Remembering Raquel
By Vivian Vande Velde

Candyfloss
By Jacqueline Wilson

The Absolutely True Diary of a Part-Time Indian
By Sherman Alexie

Jacqueline Wilson International Prizes
The Invention of Hugo Cabret
By Brian Selznick

Football Genius
By Tim Green

Holdup
By Terri Fields

Diary of a Wimpy Kid
By Jeff Kinney

The Nixie’s Song
By Tony DiTerlizzi

